Agency House Rules

Eight rules from our digital marketing agency, written in the imperative mood: four DOs and four DON'Ts.

Pedro Armando Montes de Oca · Josué Eli Torres · Emiliano Montero

OUR WORKPLACE

A digital marketing agency

Create

Campaigns, posts and copywriting for our clients' brands.

Publish

Social media content planned in a content calendar.

Advertise

Paid ads on Meta, Google and TikTok with a fixed budget.

Measure

KPIs, conversion rate and ROI on an analytics dashboard.

✓ DO · POSITIVE

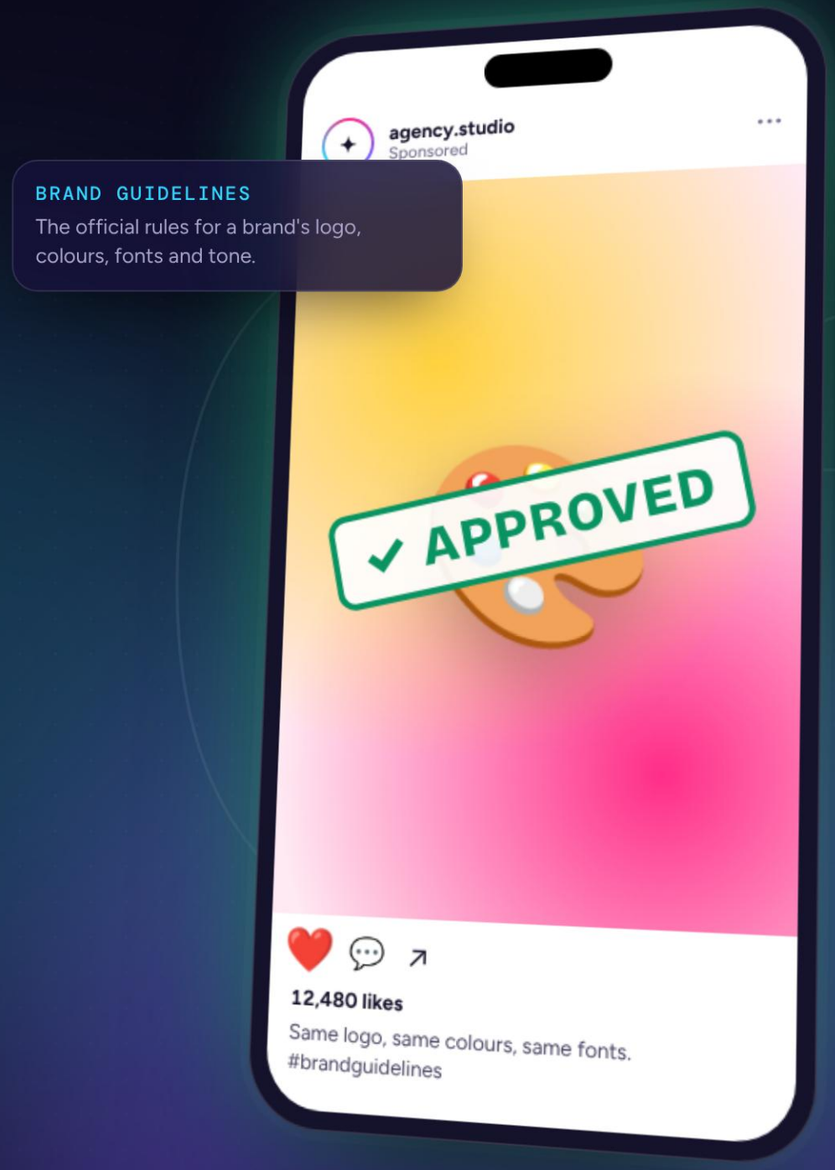

× DON'T · NEGATIVE

RULE 01 / 08 ✓ DO

Follow the brand guidelines in every design.

WHY?

Because the same logo, colours and fonts build brand awareness, and the client trusts us more.

RULE 02 / 08 × DON'T

Don't publish a post without the client's approval.

WHY?

To prevent mistakes that can damage the brand's reputation.
Once a post is online, everybody can see it.

RULE 03 / 08 ✓ DO

Read the client brief carefully before you start a campaign.

WHY?

So that our ideas match the client's goals and the target audience.

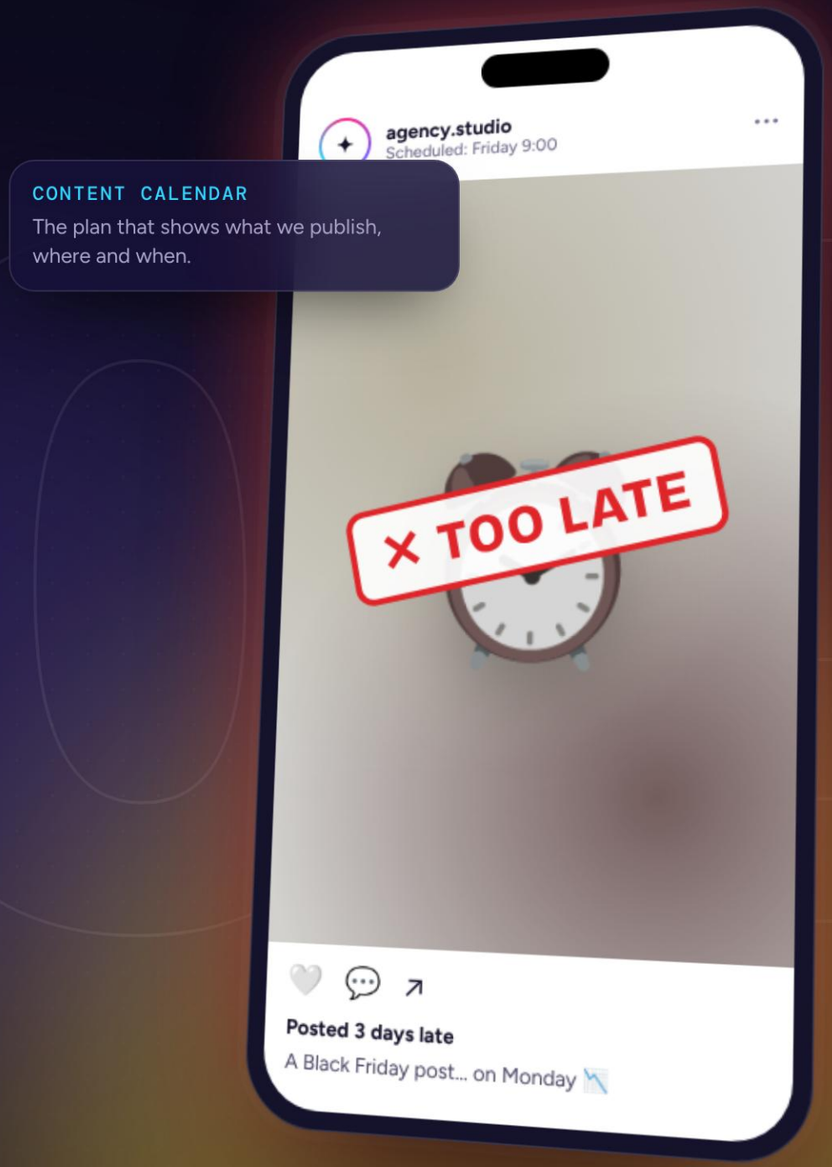

RULE 04 / 08 × DON'T

Never miss a deadline in the content calendar.

WHY?

Because a late campaign loses engagement, and the client loses money.

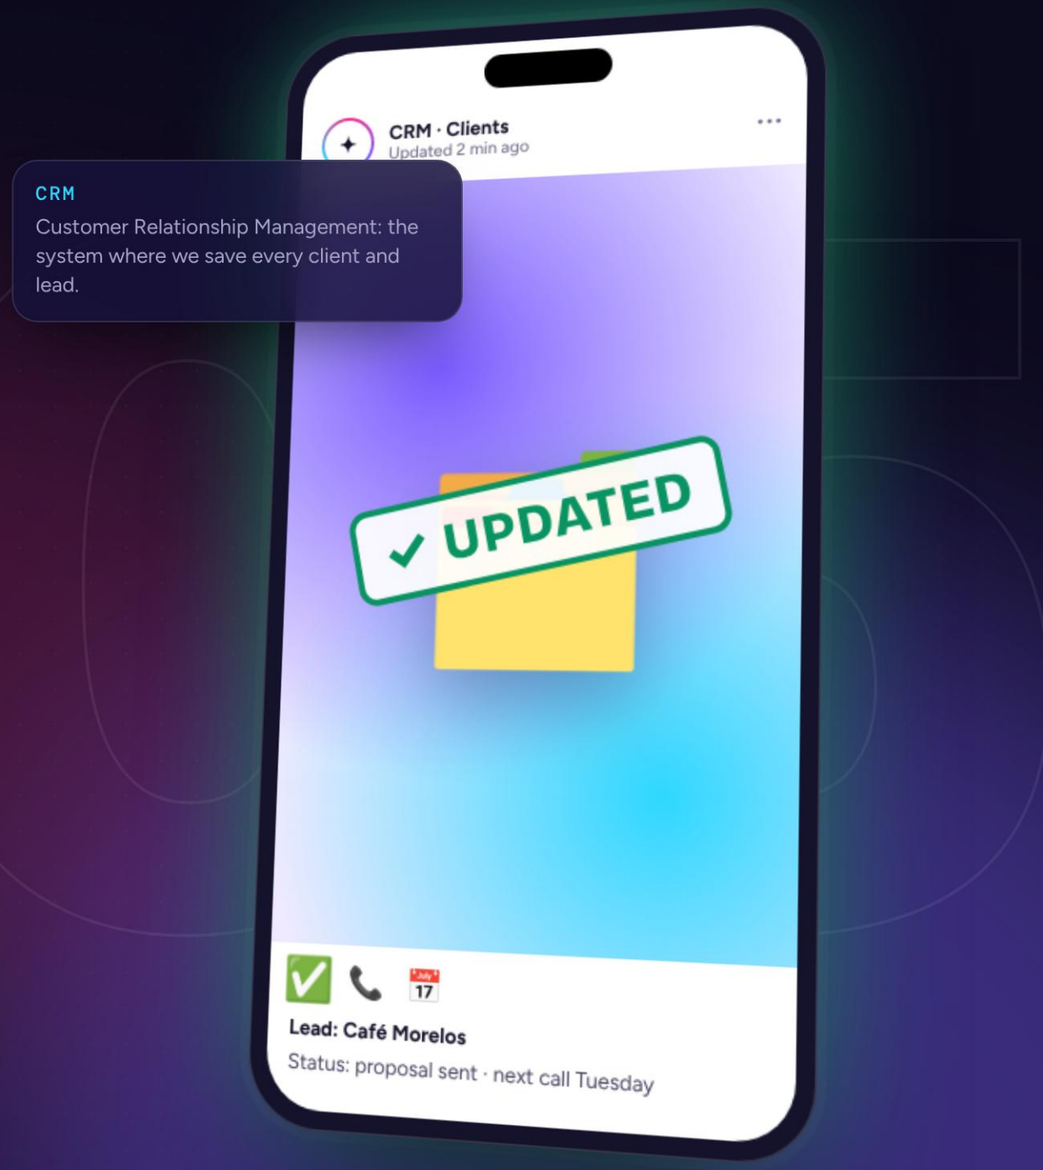

RULE 05 / 08 ✓ DO

Update the CRM after every call with a client.

WHY?

So that the whole team knows the status of each client, and we don't lose any leads.

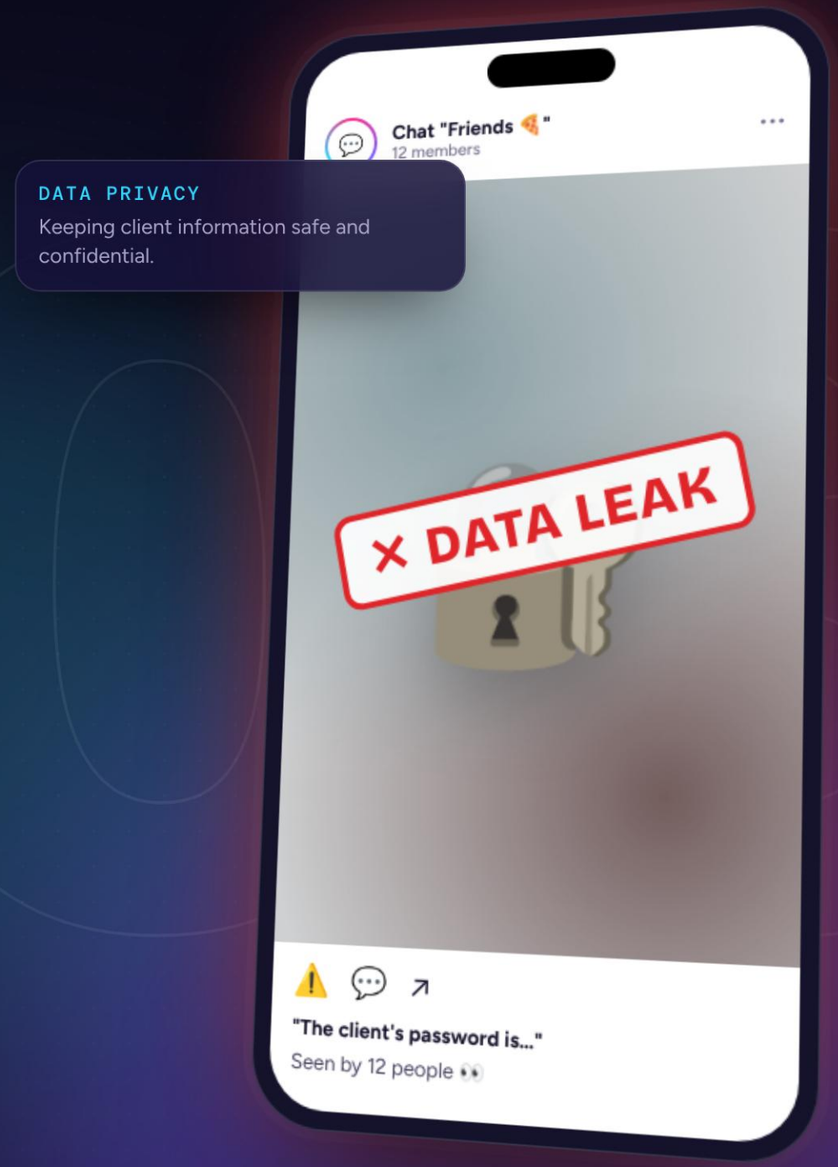

RULE 06 / 08 × DON'T

Don't share client passwords or data in personal chats.

WHY?

To protect the client's privacy and to avoid legal problems for the agency.

RULE 07 / 08 ✓ DO

Check the KPIs on the analytics dashboard every week.

WHY?

Because the data shows us if the conversion rate and the ROI are growing.

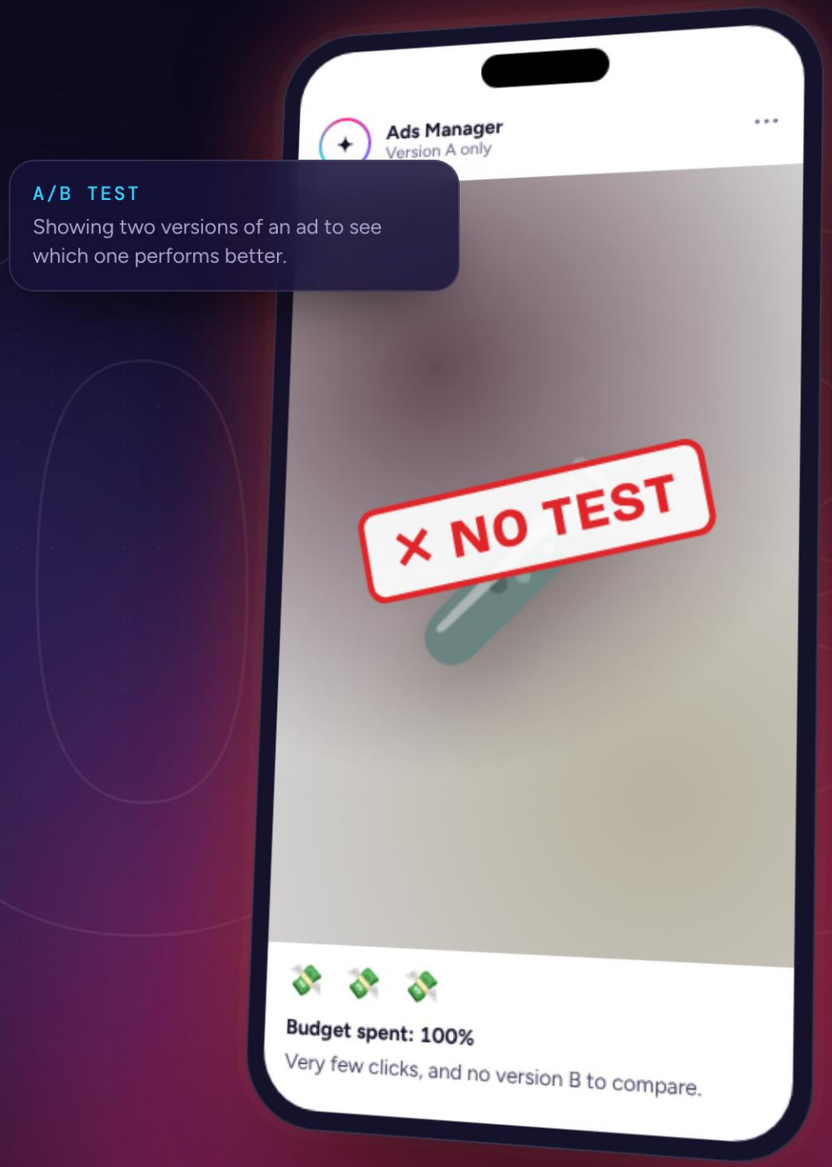

RULE 08 / 08 × DON'T

Don't launch an ad without an A/B test.

WHY?

Because testing two versions helps us spend the budget on the ad that works better.
